RIVERSIDE MADE GOOD RECORD IN YEAR JUST ENDED

Popularity of Hospital Growing With Facilities and Equipment.

Nurses Training School Proves Success.

GRADUATES ARE IN DEMAND.

The annual report of Riverside hospital, which was today submitted to the hospital board by Miss V. M. Kinsley, superintendent, shows that the institution is on a good financial business and netted the city a total of $6,557.31, which were the receipts for the year 1909.

Permanent improvements, amounting to $3,082, were made at the hospital, while the actual operating expenses were $11,113.98. The total expenditures for the entire year were $14,196.98, leaving a difference of $4,556.87 at the end of the year.

Five hundred and seven patients were cared for, this being an increase of 72 charity patients and 38 private patients, or a total increase of 110. The death rate was low as the report shows only 34 deaths. Fifteen of this number were private patients. Hospital days for charity patients numbered 2,369. Out of the receipts taken in, $675 was collected as fees for use of the operating room and $239 for special nursing.

The report in detail is as follows: Permanent improvements—Painting, $360; carpenter work, $2,552.75; awnings, $63; electric lamps, $85; wiring for electric lamps, $22, making a total of $3,082.

Receipts—January, $195.65; February, $286.03; March, $493.24; April, $584.86; May, $798.90; June, $772; July, $611.82; August, $554.62; September, $617.19; October, $498; November, $536.85; December, $608.13, making a total of $6,557.31.

Training School.

Graduate nurses from Riverside hospitals are in demand here and in surrounding towns, according to the annual report of Miss Kinsley, who states that reports from physicians prove them to be very efficient. The report of the training school was presented along with the financial report, and shows six graduates, three completing the course during the past year.

The graduates are: Miss Gracie Ledbetter, of Paducah; Mrs. W. C. Bridges (nee Miss Ruth Cochran); Miss Callista Atchinson, now doing work in a hospital at San Antonio, Tex.; Mrs. Robert Stewart (nee Miss Mattie Conley), of La Center; Miss May Durr, now doing private nursing at Louisville, and Miss Susie Buchanan, of Paducah. The three latter are graduates of last year.

Number of applications received for the year were 57, while four were accepted. Four probationers applied and were accepted. The report shows that there were 11 nurses in the training school and there were no probationers. One pupil was expelled during the year. One hundred inquiries, regarding the training school, were received. Owing to the lack of graduate nurses in the city a number of calls were answered from the hospital.

There was comparatively little sickness among the pupil nurses during the year. Classes are held once a week by the senior, intermediate and junior nurses, while the seniors and intermediates attend lectures twice a week. Thanks were extended to physicians of the city for their lectures given.

Will of Judge Bethshares

The will of the late J. L. Bethshares was filed for probate today, after providing for the payment of all debts and an annuity of $300 for life to his sister Mary Sammons, he leaves everything to his wife, Felicie Bethshares, whom he names executrix without bond. He requests that no inventory be taken.

Senator Eaton Introduces Bill That Will Compel Candidates to Swear They Employed No Bribery

Few Western Kentucky Senators Landed Important Committee Chairmanships at This Session.

A bill to prevent frauds, that is now being considered by the state at Frankfort, was introduced by Senator W. V. Eaton, of Paducah, and has met with overwhelming favor in the senate, according to Mr. Eaton, who left at 11:25 o'clock this morning for Frankfort, after spending two even more strenuous days here than he will probably spend there. In Mr. Eaton's opinion it will go through without a hitch. Two important provisions of it are that fifteen days before any election, candidates for office must file a statement with the county clerk, if it is for a county office, or 30 days beforehand with the secretary of the state, if it be a state position, swearing that they will use no money or liquor influence to obtain their election. This must be done to get their name on the ballot. After this each candidate must file an itemized statement of his expenses during the race. The law will provide that in case the candidate is guilty of such charges, any one implicated in the deal may be competent witnesses and not liable for arrest for indictment.

So far about thirty bills have been introduced in the senate, but Mr. Eaton has offered only one. This week or next he expressed himself as certain of presenting other measures. One will be a bill to permit a wife to testify as a competent witness in a case against her husband and another will be a bill relating to admission of applicants to the bar. This last question has been in the hands of a special committee, which has decided to urge its adoption as a law.

When questioned concerning the talk of commission form of government for Paducah, Lexington, Newport and Covington, Mr. Eaton said he would be one to make a fight for it. He said it probably would be late in the session before any action was taken, but the matter would probably be ordered investigated as a preliminary step.

The Normal School.

As to the location of a normal school at Paducah, Senator Eaton said nothing had been brought up about it in the senate. He did not know whether it has been taken up in the house, but he said he would fight for Paducah securing it as well as Representative Eugene Graves. Mr. Eaton declared that the state is in a sorrowful condition financially and as to the immediate action upon a normal school he was inclined to think it would be delayed on this account.

Senator Eaton returned to Paducah Sunday morning. His family are in Frankfort. He will return probably the first Sunday in February for a day.

Brief Sessions.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 10. (Special.)—Brief sessions were held in the senate and house this morning. Speaker Wilson announced his committee on rules as follows: Shanks, Schoebeth, Porter, Pogue, Klair, Russell, Buford and Creelius. Other committees will be announced tomorrow. Senator H. H. Smith ordered bill for two sub-experiment stations of the department of agriculture in the senate. A hot fight came up over L. Arnett's resolution, which was passed, allowing the appointment of twelve assistants by Chairman Pro Tem Linn. The caucus Chairman Tombs and the sergeant at arms duties were not defined.

Committee Plans.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 10. (Special.)—Senators from the western part of the state fared well in the distribution of the chairmanships of the committees, which were announced today by the leaders of the caucus. The plum was landed by Senator Conn Linn, of Murray, who is president pro tem of the senate. He was made chairman of the educational committee, which has control of the normal schools and State university. The next richest went to Senator E. M. Taylor, of Fulton, who was made chairman of the penitentiaries and houses of reform, and the military committees. Senator George Catlett, of Princeton, was made chairman of the printing committee, which controls the state printing. Senator W. V. Eaton, of Paducah, was made chairman of the constitutional amendment committee.

About County Unit Bill.

The governor is committed to and the lower house is thought to be in favor of the passage of a uniform county unit bill similar to the law which obtain at present in Indiana and Ohio. However, from the best information obtainable at this time the senate will defeat the bill.

It is said on good authority that 21, and possibly 22, senators will vote against the bill if it comes down to a consideration of its passage on third reading, which would kill additional option legislation, at least for two years.

However, it is more than likely that if the opponents of the county unit measure can muster that good a majority, which is four or five against the bill, they will find a better way to throttle the bill than that of placing the members on record. It can be allowed to die in committee in the closing days of the session, if its opponents play their cards right.

Conference of Governors.

Governor Augustus E. Willson will leave next week for Washington, D. C., to attend the conference of governors which will convene in that city January 18.

This conference is assembled at the call of Governor Willson, and aims to promote uniform legislation on vital questions, conserve state rights, and lessen centralization and secure a fuller voice of the people.

Governor Willson is chairman of this distinguished body of men, and this was a signal honor for Kentucky's governor that he was selected over the governors of other states to preside over this meeting.

Col. Ayres Returns.

Col. Mott Ayres, who was elected sergeant-at-arms of the state senate, left yesterday for Frankfort, after spending Saturday in the city with relatives and friends. Colonel Ayres is popular in Frankfort, and is one of the best politicians around the capitol.

MOUNTED CARRIER FOR POSTOFFICE

POSTMASTER F. M. FISHER WILL ASK THE DEPARTMENT FOR ONE.

In order to facilitate a quicker delivery of mail, Postmaster Frank M. Fisher will ask the postoffice department for a mounted carrier. He left today at noon for Washington on business, and before his departure this morning said that he thought the request would be granted. The mounted carrier will collect the mail from the street boxes late every afternoon so that mail would be sent out earlier.

At present the carriers collect the mail from the boxes while delivering mail, but in many parts of the city mail deposited in the street boxes late in the afternoon is not brought to the postoffice until the next morning. The new carrier would visit the boxes about dark, collect the mail and carry it to the postoffice, where it would be sent out earlier.

While in the national capital Mr. Fisher will see about the improvements on the postoffice. Owing to the cost, it is said that some of the improvements have been omitted, and Mr. Fisher will see that they are included when the remodeling of the building is done. The postmaster is particularly anxious that the revolving doors be placed in the corridor.

THOUGHT SHE WAS ROBERTA JANON

KENTUCKY GIRL HAS UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE WITH VOLUNTEER SLEUTHS.

Glasgow, Ky., Jan. 10. (Special.)—Miss Anna Ganter, daughter of Mr. L. F. Ganter, of Glasgow, is almost prostrated over her experience while returning home from Louisville on a train. Two men began watching her, and after the train passed Horse Cave, Miss Ganter was informed by one of the men that she was Miss Roberta DeJanon, who eloped with Frederick Cohen, a waiter, and attempted to place her in custody. When the train reached Glasgow Junction, Miss Ganter met her friends and established her identity.

Cadets Were Disciplined.

Newburg, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Four hundred students were driven from their beds into snow drifts early today when the main buildings of the military academy of Cornwall were destroyed by fire. The loss is $200,000. There were no casualties or account of the splendid discipline.

COMMITTEES FOR ALDERMEN NAMED BY REPUBLICANS

President Hannan Will Call Democrat Caucus to Select the Remainder.

Democrat is Appointed to Each of the Committees.

AL FOREMAN MAY NOW ACT.

The four Republican aldermen caucused today and named their committees, which they presented to President Hannan, according to agreement. The Democrats will name his other committees. President Foreman, of the board of councilmen, is reported to have held up his appointments, pending the report from the upper board. The Republicans put a Democrat on each committee, and it is presumed, President Foreman will put a Republican on each committee from the lower board.

The committees are: Finance—VanMeter, Oehlschlaeger, Stewart. Public Improvements—Hank, Farley, Stewart. Cemetery—Oehlschlaeger, Hank, Potter.

Fire and Police—Oehlschlaeger, Hank, Lackey. Printing—Hank, VanMeter, Potter. Enrollment—Lackey, Hank, Oehlschlaeger. Judiciary—Oehlschlaeger, Hank, Potter.

Committee of the Whole.

A meeting of the committee of the whole of the general council will be held at the city hall tonight for the purpose of deciding whether Paducah should take a stand with the other cities of the Second class of Kentucky for the purpose of getting a bill through the state legislature, providing for cities to be made immune from all kinds of law suits and a bill giving cities the right to float special assessment bonds for municipal improvements.

Mayor Smith called the members of the general council together last Friday night but they were not well posted on the two questions. At Frankfort Wednesday a meeting of the mayors of all Second class cities will be held to discuss the matter of having these bills introduced. Mayor Smith or a representative from here will attend. It is said that the general council will favor these two measures and allow Mayor Smith to take a hand in the fight.

Other questions, the commission form of government and the matter of extending the city limits, will not be acted upon tonight, although some discussion of each may be made.

ROWLANDTOWN HOUSE OUTSIDE CITY BURNED.

Fire destroyed a house on Atkins avenue, which is outside the city limits in Rowlandtown, yesterday afternoon. The house was occupied by John Stubbfield, and his loss will amount to about $300. Hose company, No. 3, and truck company, No. 4, made the long run, and when they reached the scene the house was located so far from a water plug that it was impossible to reach it with a stream. The firemen found it impossible to save the house and devoted their time to saving the furnishings.

SUGAR FRAUD CROOKS ARE GIVEN SENTENCES

New York, Jan. 10.—In the United States circuit court Judge Martin sentenced Thomas Kehoe, Patrick J. Hennessey, John R. Boyle and Edward A. Coyle, former checkers at the Williamsburg docks for the sugar trust, who were convicted of manipulating the scales whereby false weight on imports of sugar were recorded and the government was defrauded of duties, to one year in the penitentiary. Oliver Spitzer, convicted with the above four, will be sentenced February 1. He is now in the hospital recovering from a surgical operation.

Third Member of the Commission to Arbitrate Differences Between Illinois Central and Operators Interstate Commerce Commission Has Authority to Regulate Coal Car Distribution.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Chairman Knapp, of the interstate commerce commission, and Labor Commissioner Neill selected B. H. Meyer, president of the railroad commission of Wisconsin, the third member to arbitrate the differences between the Illinois Central and the telegraphers. They will begin their sessions this week at Chicago. This is similar to the dispute of the Big Four.

The interstate commerce commission has power to regulate the distribution of coal by railroads, according to a decision of the supreme court today, overruling the suits by the Alton and other railroads, protesting against the order of the board telling the roads not to include their own coal cars in the list of available cars for pro rata distribution.

Contract Goes to Jailer.

The committee of the fiscal court will recommend that the contract for taking care of the court house and yard be let to County Jailer Henry Houser for $1,000.

Great Power to Bishops

Rome, Jan. 10.—A decree has been issued by the pope, granting important civil and religious powers to all bishops of the church throughout the world. The new decree gives the old bishops the right to settle all questions, regarding the marriage of Catholics, without reference to authorities at the vatican.

MRS. ROCK REACHED MOTHER'S DEATHBED

A race with death was won yesterday by Mrs. John Rock, of North Sixth street, when she reached the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Rosalia Mehringer, of Cleveland, O., who died this morning at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Mehringer was 79 years old, and had been ill of general debility for several months, but her condition became worse Saturday and Mrs. Rock was telegraphed. She left early Sunday morning, reaching her mother's bedside last night. A large number of children are left. Mrs. Mehringer has not visited in Paducah for many years. Mrs. Rock will remain until after the funeral and burial.

BOTH QUALIFIED FOR SUPERVISOR

ELI G. BOONE REAPPOINTED AND GEORGE EMERY HELD ELIGIBLE.

Mr. Eli G. Boone was declared self-effaced from the roster of the board of city supervisors this morning and reappointed by Mayor James P. Smith, when City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., gave it as his opinion that by his acceptance of the position of county clerk, Mr. Boone disqualified himself to sit on the city board during his incumbency. Mr. Boone is no longer clerk, and, acting on the advice of the solicitor, Mayor Smith reappointed him. The question of the eligibility of Mr. George Emery also was settled by Mr. Campbell without taking the matter to court. It all hinged, the solicitor said, on whether Mr. Emery is a property owner. Mr. Emery said he is, and the solicitor held that he is eligible to serve. Consequently, no suit will be filed in circuit court.

PROMINENT YOUTH IS DEAD IN A RESORT

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Police are hard at work on the death of Nathaniel Ford Moore, 26, son of one of the owners of the Rock Island road, found dead at a resort Sunday. There were no marks of violence. The inquest developments are expected to result in wholesale arrests in the red light district. Heart disease is believed to have been the cause of death. The body was found by a woman who went to awaken him. The police were notified and the body was identified by letters. The body was taken to Moore's palatial home on the south side.

FLYING MACHINES BEGIN CONTESTS AT LOS ANGELES

Great Aviators of World Assembled There to Make New Records.

Balloons Get Away This Morning.

QUALIFYING TRIALS TODAY.

Los Angeles, Jan. 10.—Thousands of people gathered at the opening of the aviation meet. The first balloon to get away was the "New York," piloted by Clifford Harmon. It was followed by the "Peoria," Kanne pilot. This afternoon 14 aeroplanists demonstrated their machines' condition to fly in the elimination trials. Curtis and Paulhan expect to break all records.

Pinchot Has Many Friends.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The present week will probably decide the prolonged conflict involving the president of the United States with the ranks of the Republican party in congress. Conditions have been tending in that direction for some time, but instead of adding to the impulse the dismissal of Pinchot apparently has the effect of causing a halt. It has prompted senators and members to consider the possibilities of a continuation of the controversy, and the present indications are of a more specific tendency than those of a week ago.

The situation in some respects remains critical. Pinchot has many admirers in congress, who would be inclined to take up his cause if they could do so without endangering the peace of the party and their own political welfare. On the other hand, many are saying that the personal fortunes of Ballinger and Pinchot are of little importance compared to the great question of the preservation of party harmony.

The investigation of the interior department and of the forest service will proceed along the lines indicated.

Trial of Calhoun Postponed.

San Francisco, Jan. 10.—On motion of District attorney Fickert, the trial of Patrick Calhoun, the street railway magnate, accused of attempted bribery in connection with the car franchises, has postponed a month. Fickert said he is unfamiliar with the records of the case. Calhoun is the man tried by Graft Prosecutor Heney. Fickert defeated Heney of the district attorneyship.

Petty Family Quarrel.

Jack Petty swore in the city court this morning that he had left his wife numerous times in the past few years, got a divorce from her a short time ago and to cap the climax she returned home last Thursday with her two sons and his mother-in-law, and some other relatives, expecting him to stand for it. He said he positively refused and a volley of obscene language poured forth between them. Mrs. Petty claimed her "used-to-be" knocked her behind the stove, where he was preparing his meal, and Jack said Molly (Mrs. Petty) drew a hatchet on him and threatened to chop his head off. Petty was fined $5.

MISS POLLY DURRETT BEGINS HER DUTIES

Miss Polly Durrett, who was appointed deputy county clerk by Col. Gus G. Singleton, assumed her duties this morning. Miss Durrett is a popular young woman and a daughter of former Alderman L. E. Durrett.

CHIEF OF POLICE HENRY SINGERY'S BIRTHDAY

Without pomp or ceremony Chief of Police Henry Singery is quietly celebrating the 42 anniversary of his birth today at police headquarters. Chief Singery bears the distinction of being the tallest and youngest chief Paducah has ever had. He did patrol duty for seventeen years and succeeded James Collins at the head of the police department January 1 of this year.

THE NEXT DOUBLE-HEADER BASKETBALL CONTEST

The next double-header basketball game will be played Wednesday instead of Tuesday night, as has been announced. For the first time season the Chess, Checker and five will be seen when the team up against the D. A. D.'s. Two teams of unknown strength a Elk and Knights of Columbus will meet. A second double will be played Friday night.

VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES FOR CHARITY FRIDAY

Vaudeville and moving pictures for charity will be the attractive bill Friday night at the Kentucky theater, which has been generously turned over by the management to the Charity club, together with the moving picture films and the house force for that evening. The best amateur talent in the city is assured for the half-hour of vaudeville, as a prize of $5 is offered to the winner, to be decided in the usual manner. The prices of admission will be ten and twenty cents. The moving picture part of the exhibition will consist of eight pictures, including four reels, an extraordinary program.

FRATERNITY BLDG. FIRE DISCOVERED

ATTORNEY J. R. GROGAN SMELLS SMOKE AND SUMMONS FIRE CHIEF WOOD.

The smell of smoke prevented a dangerous fire at the Fraternity building last night when a blaze, started by spontaneous combustion, broke out in room 215 on the second floor, being arranged for the occupancy of Mrs. Louisa Austin as a ladies' beauty parlor. Attorney J. R. Grogan is the hero of the hour and Fire Chief Wood and Fireman Hays at the central fire station are the men who broke into the room and swamped the fire.

Yesterday evening about 6 o'clock Dr. P. H. Stewart, who occupies a suite of rooms across the hall from the parlor, began to smell something burning, but couldn't locate it. About 8 o'clock Attorney J. R. Grogan, who sleeps at his office on the fourth floor, passed up the steps and at the second floor he smelled smoke. He proceeded on to his room and about 10:30 o'clock the scent began more penetrating and Mr. Grogan set out to locate it. After a few minutes he sighted smoke curling from under the door of Mrs. Austin's parlor and ran out and summoned Chief Wood. With Fireman Hays the trio made for the building and shattered the door glass.

By this means they gained entrance and with chemicals drowned out the blaze, that was eating its way along the south wall of the room at the floor.

Saturday afternoon the janitor had oiled the floor of the room and with a rag had oiled the wainscoting. The rag was left wadded in the corner and it is supposed to have become ignited by combustion of the oil. The damage will amount to only a few dollars for the replacing of a few boards of the flooring.

News of Theatres

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Tonight—Trixie Friganza in "The American Idea."
Saturday (matinee and night)—East Lynne.

Miss Edith Ross and Miss Lola Hilton are the two fascinating little dancers of George M. Cohan's "The American Idea," which comes to the Kentucky theater, for one performance only, tonight, who gave that whirlwind entertainment a dash of what may be called terpsichorean paprika. These comely young dancers, both of whom are in their teens, flashed upon the Broadway horizon in "Little Johnny Jones," Mr. Cohan's first big success in musical comedy. Since then they have been his dancing favorites and to one after another of his characteristic entertainments they have given Parisian verve, elan and pungent vivacity.

Joseph King's company will be seen next Saturday matinee and night in "East Lynne." The company engaged for the presentation has been selected with great care and an adequate scenic equipment will furnish an effective background for the excellent performance.

"The Girl From Rector's." If we have reached a state of moral turpitude, in which our minds are befogged concerning the character of a place of assignation like "French Charlie's road house" where men and women get drunk together and pair off to their rooms, as depicted in "The Girl From Rector's," then it must be admitted there is a question as to the fitness of the piece for presentation on the stage. "The Girl From Rector's" has a strong caste and good costumes, and nothing else but an evil reputation with which to attract business. It attracted a fair sized audience in Paducah, containing about a score of women; but mostly made up of nontheatergoers. The house showed that the exposure, which warned regular patrons away also effectively advertised the piece in other quarters. So the owners of the show profited as they expected to.

However, the press does its duty, when it sets forth facts. Those who were warned and stayed away, should be thankful.

Many attended Saturday night with the expectation of seeing something worse, while the few regular theatergoers present thought it was too suggestive. At the best the play is not elevating. The first two acts dealt with strangers in New York on a general tear. In the last acts the characters meet at a wedding in Battle Creek, and the general confusion that follows with the revival of former friendships furnish the excitement of the play.

The atmosphere of the last acts, the drinking and rioting, the numerous affinities, and the final scene in "French Charlie's" road house, where they go to separate rooms, is entirely too suggestive. However, it is made more entertaining because capable actors perform the roles, and the scenery and costumes are good.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE WEEK

DISMISSAL OF PINCHOT LIKELY TO BE LEADER.

Great Aviation Meet Will Be Held in Los Angeles—Balloting in British Elections.

CONGRESS UNDER FULL SWAY.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The dismissal of Pinchot is likely to lead in news interest the coming week. Congress is under full sway; the balloting on the British elections begins Saturday and the greatest series of aviation contests since the Rheims meeting will be in progress at Los Angeles all week.

During the next six days the important step in the Hallinger-Pinchot controversy will be the appointment of the congressional committee to investigate the quarrel. The immediate battle ground will be in the senate on the question of whether the house committee members be elected or appointed by Speaker Cannon.

Developments in the fight of the house "insurgents" concerning the recommendations in Taft's message on the conservation of natural resources will assume added importance.

A municipal contest of more than local importance will be the Boston mayoralty election Tuesday. Four candidates are in the field and a new departure of city government will be tested.

The report of the special committee of the New York Stock Exchange investigating the manipulation of the Rock Island stock is due Wednesday.

The annual meeting of the Western Golf association at Chicago Saturday will pass upon the proposal to secede from the United States Golf association, and form a new national organization.

HAWK PURSUES PARTRIDGE.

Flight Continued Through Village—Where Quarry Sought Safety.

Some men working in the fields west of Moscow village yesterday saw a hawk start a partridge in a wheat field and attempt to catch it. The partridge was too speedy of wing, though, and for a short distance it flew straight for the village, after attempting to elude its pursuer, thinking perhaps that in the habitation of man there was protection from its merciless foe.

The two birds flew down Main street in front of the stores and people on the street, but the hawk was so engrossed in the pursuit of its prey that the presence of men did not frighten it off. The partridge flew about the buildings on Main street and then to the residence section.

It was rapidly tiring from its long flight and as the hawk, which was stronger of wing, seemed about to clutch it in its talons the partridge attempted to fly in the window of A. J. White's residence, but the window was closed and the bird struck the class of actors to their work is just as neck and shatter the pane in many pieces.

The crashing glass frightened the hawk and it quickly flew off, evincing a desire, however, to take the dead body of the partridge with it. Mount Morris correspondence Rochester Herald.

PEKIN PESSIMISTIC.

Does Not Believe Britain Will Support Knox Proposition.

Pekin, Jan. 10.—The highest government officials are pessimistic with regard to British support of the proposals of the government relative to the Manchurian railways and believe that more active German support would bring about a realization of the scheme. The Chinese government is placing reliance in W. W. Rockhill, the American ambassador at St. Petersburg, to secure Russian assent to the proposals, which would also mean French support.

FLOUR WHITE TO PLEASE EYE

NO GOOD CAN COME FROM BLEACHING, SAYS WILEY.

Mill Machinery Makers Largely Responsible For Unwholesome Product—Wheat Flour.

HAN ON BLEACHED PRODUCT

Washington, Jan. 10.—"It is just to please the eye. No good can come from making flour white," declared Chemist Wiley of the department of agriculture. "You can not find any great amount of bleached flour going into interstate commerce at all now. I can tell the change now by the bread. Every time I cut a loaf of bread I rejoice, because instead of having the whiteness of a corpse it has that beautiful delicate amber tint that all bread ought to have. The electricity was the agent which produced the bleaching material."

"Several cases are now pending against millers, and I do not betray any confidence of the millers when I say that the fight in this case is made chiefly by the men who are selling the machinery. The millers themselves would not fight it for a moment if left to them, but the men who are making this bleaching machinery have been hurt. The bakers of the United States were always opposed to bleached flour. They knew the flour was injured by the process."

"This wheat flour case will be fought by the best talent in this country and the most celebrated lawyers."

PINCHOT AFFAIR

ed by the Jones-Humphrey resolution; but it will be competent for the investigation committee either to broaden or narrow the inquiry. If the advice of many leaders is followed, however, the inquiry will be restricted as much as possible, especially now that, as an official factor, Pinchot is eliminated from the dispute.

The question will receive attention next on the floor of the senate, the main feature of interest being whether the senate will consent that the house elect its members of the Pinchot-Hallinger joint investigation committee or whether they be appointed by Cannon. It is now said that Cannon himself prefers that the house elect its committee. If this is done, the Republican members will probably designate their representative in a caucus and it is claimed that the insurgents would participate in this caucus.

The senate committee will re-present the resolution tomorrow and it is expected that the discussion will be animated and personal.

Hallinger Fires Subordinates.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Secretary Ballinger of the interior department suspended from office Superintendent John D. Benedict of the five civilized tribes of Oklahoma, and three supervisors as a result of the investigation which has disclosed "a disgraceful condition" affecting the material and moral welfare of the schools.

As a result of the investigation which the interior department has been carrying on for some time and which will be continued, other officials in the Indian service may suffer a like fate to that of Superintendent Benedict, and the three supervisors suspended today.

The suspended supervisors are Calvin Ballard, of the Choctaw schools at McAlester; Frederick H. Umholtz, of the Chickasaw schools at Ardmore, and Walter Fairwell, of the Creek schools at Muskogee. Before any further action is taken in their cases the four men will be allowed to make answer to the secretary of the interior as to the charges against them.

From the report made in the case it appears that Superintendent Benedict is connected with certain business interests in Oklahoma which have more or less business with the Indians, which relationship was believed to be wholly incompatible with his service as superintendent. He had permitted the schools, it was reported, to fall into a disgraceful condition and the supervisors have neglected their duties in the enforcement of the school contract and in matters affecting the material and moral conditions surrounding the conduct of the schools.

Deny the Charges.

Muskogee, Okla., Jan. 10.—John Benedict and other accused Indian officials made full denial of Secretary Ballinger's charges when interviewed last night. With their denials they hint that the new policy may be held responsible.

Ollie James Did It.

Washington, Jan. 10.—To Congressman Ollie James of the First Kentucky district belongs the credit for first proposing the resolution with which on Friday the Democrats and the Republican "insurgents" dealt Speaker Cannon and his regime a knockout blow in the house. The resolution, which was offered by Representative Norris, of Nebraska, one of the "insurgent" Republicans, provided for the election of the house members of the Hallinger-Pinchot investigation committee, instead of allowing Speaker Cannon to name them from the chair.

The resolution, which was adopted by the majority of four votes, recorded the first victory that the insurgents united with the minority have won since the beginning of the mutiny in the house against Cannonism.

For some time, or ever since it became apparent that an investigation of the interior department and the bureau of forestry would be ordered by the house and senate, there has been gossip tending to create the impression that the proposed investigation would amount to nothing more than a neatly applied coat of whitewash to the department over which Secretary Ballinger presides. Hence the opinion in the house among the pro-Pinchot element that it would be a mistake to permit Speaker Cannon to appoint the house members of the joint investigating committee.

Friday at noon no systematic steps had been taken by the Democrats and the Republican "insurgents" to block what appeared to be the program of the house leaders. Then it was that Representative James suggested to Representative Underwood of Alabama, acting minority leader in the absence of Champ Clark, the resolution providing for the election of the members of the investigating committee by the house.

Mr. Underwood carried the suggestion to the "insurgents," and they agreed to it at once, and asked that Mr. Norris offer the resolution.

Louis Paulhan, the French aviator, together with two members of his syndicate of flyers, Miscalot and Malsson, arrived here, bringing with them two Bleriot monoplanes and two farman biplanes, in which tomorrow Malsson and Miscalot will gear in competition with Willard, Hamilton and Curtiss in the speed and height tests. These aeroplanes, standing beside the five Curtiss machines in the shelter tent, look gigantic.

Glenn Curtiss declared that he fully expects to see the speed records lowered, while he himself hopes to surpass the high flights of his chief French competitor in the next ten days.

Charles K. Hamilton, who is here fresh from his recent flights near Kansas City, Mo., is being groomed by Curtiss to beat Paulhan's official speed record of a mile in two minutes and one-fifth second. He will also go after the record established by the luckless De la Grange, who flew a mile and 860 yards in 1 minute and 47 seconds.

Paulhan Is Confident.

Clifford Harmon, the New York aviator, who is more than six feet tall, while standing near Curtiss and Paulhan, and noting the size of the two aviators, shook his head and remarked:

"This is the first time I ever wanted to be small."

With Edmund Cleary, his manager acting as interpreter, the reporters catechised Paulhan as to plans and prospects of beating the new records made abroad.

"Can you do better than Latham," he was asked.

"Oh, yes; that is why I came."

"Do you know that he flew higher than 3,000 feet the other day? Can you beat that?"

"Yes," Paulhan answered.

Then pointing toward the snow-capped Sierra Madres, gleaming in the sun above a curtain of clouds, he asked:

Will Fly Over Sierras.

"How high is that?"

"More than 4,000 feet," he was told.

"Well, if you don't mind, I'll fly over that."

Curtis had the Harmon biplane all groomed and ready. It had never been put together before and shone with varnish and bright metal fittings.

All the American biplanes, including one built by Capt. Mueller, the balloonist, have four-cylinder motors, except that in which Curtiss hopes to make records and take a large proportion of the prize money.

This is the eight-cylinder biplane in which he made the remarkable flight at Rheims.

At that meeting he said that he could not use the full power of the motor for fear of wrecking the machine and killing himself. But he has made some modifications which will enable him to use the full power.

Field Is Historic.

The slope over which the modern vessels of the air will sail was made historic in the year 1846 by a battle between the early Californians and members of the crew of the vessel on which Commander Stockton afterward embarked at San Pedro for Monterey to raise the American flag over California.

The course that has been laid out on this gentle slope is visible from every part of the big field, which surrounds it, and from the crest of the hill on which the grand stand rests, not only all of the course may be viewed, but beyond it the broad valley, and on the far slope, the cities of Los Angeles and Pasadena appear.

Flights may be made in any direction and for twenty miles no obstruction offers to hide them from the view of the spectators.

The officers of the Aero Club of California announced the selection of the following judges for the competitive flights:

The aviators, who will make the first flights in heavier than air machines ever attempted on the Pacific coast, will be Glenn H. Curtiss, Louis Paulhan, Charles K. Hamilton, Charles F. Willard, Clifford B. Harmon, M. Malsson, M. Miscalot, Roy Knabeshue and Lincoln Beechey.

Farman biplanes, Bleriot monoplanes, Curtiss biplanes and the new Knabeshue machine will be flown, and several machines made by comparatively unknown inventors will be given their first trial to determine whether they shall be entered in the lists of competitors for the $80,000 in money prizes.

Flights for the two dozen spherical balloons that have been brought to this city from all parts of the country will be made from Huntington field.

Owing to the conditions of the intervening stretch of country, however, spectators at aviation camp will be enabled to see the balloon flights at the same time the heavier than air machines are in the air, and if air currents are right, the balloons may at times be seen directly over the aviation field.

Balloon races will be held in the latter days of the meet, when attempts to sail over the Sierra Madre range of mountains and to sail from this city to San Francisco for prizes offered by the aviation committee will be made.

The first one of the prize competitions for heavier than air machines, that for greatest speed will be made on Tuesday.

According to Glenn H. Curtiss, the aviators will be compelled to make the flights at a height of about 75 feet on account of the topography of the field, whereas the flights over the aviation courses in Europe have been made at a height of from 15 to 25 feet.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Paducah Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Paducah proof: Tony Schaeffer, 422 S. Ninth street, Paducah, Ky., says: "The hard work I have done together with excessive stooping, no doubt was the cause of my kidney complaint. There was a constant dull pain in the small of my back and across my kidneys and my whole body was often lame and sore. My kidneys were also very weak and the secretions passed too frequently. After having taken various remedies without getting relief, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised. I obtained a supply at the List Drug Co., and to my delight the first few doses brought me relief. As I continued taking this remedy, I steadily grew better and every symptom of my trouble was finally removed. Doan's Kidney Pills are worthy of endorsement."

Chief of the Orchid Tribe.

The "Giant Orchid" tribe. It attains proportions which make all other orchids appear as miniatures in comparison.

A gigantic specimen may be seen in Ceylon which is credited with being the largest in the world. It underwent a growth of forty years before it first flowered. It bears about seventy stems of pseudo-bulbs, which vary from six to ten feet in length, each carrying over a hundred ribbon-like leaves, which are from twenty to thirty inches long. The enormous flower stalks are from five and a half to eight feet long, each bearing about a hundred flowers. The plant remains in flower for about two months, and as many as three thousand flowers may be counted on it at once. The flowers, which are scented, measure individually five and a half to six inches across, their color being yellow ground, with large purplish or chocolate blotches. HOW POSTOFFICE BUSINESS GROWS

GROSS REVENUE FOR THE YEAR REACHED OF $203,562,383.

Was an Increase of More Than 3 Per Cent Over Previous Year—Number of Presidential Offices.

RANKS NEXT TO TREASURY

Washington, Jan. 10.—As a business institution, the postoffice department, next to the United States treasury, is the greatest in the government. According to figures submitted by Charles P. Grandfield, first assistant postmaster general, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1909, made public today in his annual report, the gross revenue of the postal service reached the enormous total of $203,562,383, an increase of $12,083,720, or 6.31 per cent over the preceding year.

There were 7,202 presidential post-offices on July 1, 1909. Of this number 398 were first class, an increase of 14; 1,707 were second class, an increase of 112; and 5,097 were third class, an increase of 230. The total increase in the number of presidential offices was 356. There were 1,444 postoffices established during the year and 2,054 were discontinued, leaving a total of 60,144 postoffices in operation on June 30, 1909. During the year 1,626 postmasters were appointed at presidential offices. At fourth class offices 9,161 postmasters were appointed.

Salaries of Postmasters. "The annual rate of expenditure for the salaries of presidential postmasters on July 1, 1909, was as follows: First class, $1,408,600; second class, $4,012,400; third class, $7,344,800, making a total of $12,765,800.

"At the close of the fiscal year there were 1,978 assistant postmasters at first and second class offices, an increase of 116. The number of clerks at first and second class offices increased from 28,220 to 29,930, and the carrier force at city delivery offices from 26,352 to 27,620, being a net increase of 1,710 clerks and 1,268 carriers.

"It is recommended that the law be so amended as to provide for the advancement of an office of the fourth class to the presidential class whenever the compensation of the postmaster amounts to $1,000 and the gross annual receipts to $1,900 for four successive quarters. The offices that would be affected by such a change in the statute are mainly those located at summer and winter resorts, where a large business, equivalent to that of a presidential office, is transacted during one or two quarters.

Give Clerks Vacation.

"In a number of cases at rapidly growing offices the salary of the assistant postmaster is actually less than that allowed the principal clerks due to the operation of the law governing the promotion of clerks and carriers and the fact that the appropriation for assistant postmasters for the current fiscal year does not provide an adequate number of positions in certain grades. There should be a maximum and minimum salary for assistant postmasters fixed by law, and sufficient latitude allowed in the appropriation act to prevent this anomalous condition."

Dr. Grandfield makes a strong argument in favor of thirty days' annual leave for clerks and carriers in first class and second class offices.

"At the close of the fiscal year there were 7,200 postoffices of the presidential class. Of this number 3,217 or 44.6 per cent were housed in leased quarters, for which the annual rate of rental was $2,726,805. On June 30, 1909, there were 434 offices located in federal buildings, an increase of 15 during the year. It is expected, however, that this number will be largely augmented during the current fiscal year. On the date last mentioned there were 3,812 numbered stations, 711 delivery stations and 241 branch postoffices."

TUBERCULOSIS INDIAN'S FOR

COMMISSIONER TELLS OF RED MAN'S NEEDS.

Valentine Declares Indians Should Be Allowed to Use Valuable Properties Allotted to Them.

IT IS KILLING HUNDREDS NOW

Washington, Jan. 10.—"Tuberculosis stands at the head of the diseases which afflict the Indian." This is the statement made in the annual report of the commissioner of Indian affairs. That it is on the increase is further stated, but methods are being employed by which it is hoped to eliminate the disease as far as possible.

Three hundred and three government schools were conducted during the past fiscal year, says the Washington Star, this being a net increase of 22. Almost all of the Christian denominations in the United States have missions in the Indian country, the report recites, adding that the Indian office co-operates gladly, impartially and with increasing effectiveness with each and all. The commissioner says that the government, in the person of each employee, should co-operative with religious denominations in avoiding the dangers which may come from proselytizing.

The report says:

To Open Up Mines.

"There is no authority under existing law for leasing for mining purposes the tribal lands of reservations that have been established by executive order. There are several such reservations rich in minerals, and one in particular in Arizona containing large deposits of tufa stone, which it is hoped congress will, by appropriate legislation, enable the Indians to make beneficial use of.

"The domestic life of the Indians, the sanctity and purity of the marriage relation, is a matter of prime importance, and should be protected by stringent laws in accord with the most advanced and best marriage and divorce laws among the whites. The secretary of the interior should be given power to enforce a purer mode of living among the Indians by withholding their annuities when they are found to be living wrongly.

"In order to handle successfully the many problems of sanitation and those arising from epidemics and diseases to which Indians are peculiarly susceptible, such as pneumonia, consumption and trachoma, legislation appropriating a sufficient sum for the establishment of a medical corps should be enacted.

"There is great need for a determined and systematic effort to teach the Indians those industries best suited to their localities and to their abilities. An industrial corps similar in its administrative features to the medical corps, above outlined, should be established, with headquarters in the field, with a view to the industrial education of the Indians, male and female, and whose duty it should be to educate the Indian in such industries, that they might become self-respecting and self-supporting."

The commissioner also wants the allottees of Indian lands secured in the matter of payments made to the treasury on account of the sale, cutting or removal of timber to their lands. He declares that the Indians have incurred long delays and loss of money heretofore in instances of this character which he hopes to see remedied by a change in the law.

The Indian service is regarded by Commissioner Valentine as primarily educational.

A Great School. "It is a great outdoor indoor school," he says, "with the emphasis on the outdoor. The students in this school are 300,000 individuals, ranging in age from babies at the breast to the old men and women."

DEATH AND PEARL NECKLACES

Disuse Breeds Disease and Impairment of Value Follows.

The great pearl necklace in the Louvre Museum, consisting of 145 pearls and valued at $60,000, which was once the property of Mme. Thiers, was reported some time ago to be "dying." Through disuse the pearls were losing their luster and gradually but certainly declining in value. According to a London paper the same deterioration has been noticed in a rope of pearls belonging to the wife of a peer. "After a death in the family four years ago the owner of the jewels had them looked away," says the writer of the article, "in a dark place, the atmosphere of which must have influenced the luster of the pearls. They were taken out a few days ago and found to be perfectly dull. The change which has been known to take place in many years occurred here in a comparatively short time." A satirist writing about the dying pearls incident said: "It is possible that my lady found it necessary to dispose of the pearls and that the lusterless beads are substituted? Such deceptions are considered fair under some circumstances."—New York Tribune.

"I FELT MISERABLE, BUT WAS NOT SICK; TIRED, BUT WAS NOT LAZY, ALL RUN DOWN, YET NOT OVERWORKED," SAYS MR. THOMAS HARTMAN

NOW HE IS HALE, HEARTY, ACTIVE AND IS IN PERFECT HEALTH

The above words express the condition of Mr. Hartman at the time he commenced using Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm three weeks ago. He seemed to have lost all vim and ambition; felt more tired in the morning than when he went to bed the night before. His tongue always had a heavy white coating, causing his taste to be poor and his breath bad. After taking Quaker Extract a few days he expressed disappointment as it did not seem to be helping him much. He continued taking it, however, and results were noticeable. After that he improved rapidly and today he said:

"I am again a hale, hearty, active man, thanks to the Quaker remedies." Such reports as these are coming in every day. Hardly an hour passes but some grateful person calls at McPherson's drug store, Fourth and Broadway, to express thanks for being cured by Quaker. All persons suffering with rheumatism, catarrh, kidney, liver, bladder, stomach or blood troubles should call at once at McPherson's drug store. He will never under any consideration, offer his remedies unless he thinks they will actually benefit.

NINE BILLIONS

VALUE OF EXPORTS OF AMERICAN FARM PRODUCTS.

Most of Them, However, Are Manufactured Before Going Abroad.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Nine billion dollars' worth of agricultural products have been exported from the United States during the last ten years, those exported in the fiscal year 1909 having alone amounted to practically 900 million dollars against less than 800 million in 1899. The exports of agricultural products as a whole have increased from 785 million dollars in 1899 to $98 million in 1909, the highest record having been made in 1907, when the total exceeded one billion dollars, or, to be exact, 1,049 million. Most of the staple farm products used for food, such as breadstuffs, meats, and live cattle, show decreased exportations during the period, the loss in that line of articles having been more than offset by the great increase in cotton and certain comparatively new industries whose chief development has occurred in the last few years, notably cotton seed oil, corn oil, oil cake and oil cake meal, oleomargarine, lard compounds, sugar and molasses, fruits and nuts, etc.

—Miss Cuttie Roach, of Gracely, will arrive this evening on a visit to Mrs. Sarah Weeks, 503 North Fourth street.

—Parliament to Dissolve.
London, Jan. 10.—Parliament will be formally dissolved tomorrow. It contains 344 Liberals, 55 Laborites, 83 Nationalists, and 168 Unionists. In order to secure a majority in the new parliament the Unionists will require to win at least 170 seats from their opponents.

—Paid $50,000 For a Count.
Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 10.—In the first statement she has made since the publication of the charge that she had eloped with a handsome Irishman named Coles, Countess Pasolini, formerly Miss Mildred Montague of Chattanooga, said today that she would soon institute proceedings for divorce. Dwight Preston Montague, father of the countess, said, among other things, the divorce bill would charge that Countess Pasolini compelled the countess to entertain an actress in her own home and frequently made European trips with her. The Montagues point out that the Rome dispatches charging elopement were written by the court himself, who knew Coles would be a damaging witness against him. "I know that no one in Chattanooga will believe that story," the countess said, "because they know I am above such action." The countess is a lineal descendant of the foster parents of Edgar Allan Poe. The marriage settlement contract, whereby $50,000 was paid the countess, is on file in Chattanooga.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Luncheon Complimentary to Visitor.
Miss Corrie Grundy, 229 North Seventh street, will entertain with a luncheon on Friday at 1 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Julia Shields and Miss Lillian McGavock, of Columbia, Tenn., the house guest of Mrs. George B. Exall, and other visitors in the city.

Louisville Wedding With Paducah Maid of Honor.
Sunday's Louisville Herald gives the details of a wedding to take place there that has decided local interest as the maid of honor is an attractive Paducah girl and the bride-elect has been a popular visitor here. Miss Bradshaw left the past week for Louisville to attend a round of pre-nuptial luncheons and showers in honor of Miss Hudson and her bridesmaids.

"The wedding of Miss Mona Hudson to Mr. Robert F. Cate, of Atlanta, Ga., will be solemnized on Saturday evening, January 15, at the Broadway Methodist church. The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Mr. Lynn B. Hudson. The maid of honor will be Miss Eloise Bradshaw, of Paducah. The bridesmaids will be Misses Willie Kendrick, Anna B. Elwang, Emma Rivers, Susan Warner and Elizabeth Leeds, of Norfolk, Va. Mr. Charles Pauche, of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be the best man. The groomsmen will be Messrs. Stanley Hudson, Wallace Pinson, of Nashville; J. C. McMichael, of Atlanta, Ga.; J. N. Condon, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Ray Wright, of Knoxville. The bridesmaids will wear gowns of pastel shades in the rainbow colors and carry American Beauties."

Boyle Woolfolk in Lexington.
The Lexington Herald says of a talented playwright and actor who is prominently related and popular in Paducah:

"Mr. Boyle Woolfolk's new play which comes to the opera house Monday afternoon and evening, will be made quite a society event. 'The Sunny Side of Broadway' is the title and is one of the great musical successes."

"Mr. Woolfolk is a popular Kentuckian and brilliant young play writer and in his honor there will be many theater parties and box parties."

Tribute to First Lady of Kentucky.
The Kentucky State Journal, Frankfort, says in its Sunday issue:

"Owing to her severe attack of la grippe, Mrs. Augustus E. Willson will be forced to postpone her 'at home' day at the mansion."

"This last illness was almost the last straw with the Mistress of the mansion, for she was most anxious to entertain her friends this winter in hospitable fashion."

"Mrs. Willson has been brave past belief during a year of repeated illness and has for her friends a smile and a welcoming word no matter what the effort may cost her."

"Her friends hope to hear better reports from her condition very soon."

Entre Nous Club With Miss Loving.
Miss Robbie Loving, 521 Monroe street, is the hostess of the Entre Nous club on Friday afternoon.

Assembly Dances in Frankfort.
The date of the Assembly Ball club dance has been changed from Thursday night until Wednesday night, as the legislature adjourns toward the end of the week, and many of the members go to their homes to spend the week-end.

"The second dance of the Assembly Ball club will be given Wednesday night at the Capital Hotel and promises to be as brilliant a success as the first."—Frankfort notes in the Lexington Herald.

Popular Paducah Girl Married in Memphis.
Invitations have been received in the city to a reception to be given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Brunson, of Memphis, Tenn., who were married in Memphis December 29. Mrs. Brunson was Miss Florence Martin, who formerly made her home in Paducah, and has quite a number of friends here, mostly school chums, who were in the High school with her. The invitation to the "at home" was the first notice received here of her marriage.

Wedding at Sharpe.
Miss Florence Johnson and Roy Rothwell, a popular couple of Sharpe, were married yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride by the Rev. Mr. Scott. A large number of friends and relatives of the couple were present at the ceremony. The couple will reside at Sharpe. The bride is the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Johnson, and was the telephone operator of the Sharpe exchange. The groom is a prosperous young farmer of Marshall county.

Attractive Paducah Visitor to Marry January 20.
Dr. and Mrs. George M. Savage announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Virginia, to Mr. James R. Brandon, of Benton, Ky., the marriage to take place at their residence on the twentieth of January, 1910. No cards.—Jackson Daily Sun, January 9.

Miss Savage is a sister of Mrs. M. E. Dodd, of this city, and has been an attractive visitor here. Mrs. Dodd will be unable to attend the marriage owing to illness. Dr. Virgin, pastor of the First Baptist church in Jackson, will perform the ceremony. Mr.

Brandon is a prominent merchant of Benton. Dr. Savage, the father of the bride-elect, is well known here. He is at the head of the Baptist university in Jackson and frequently visits Paducah in the interest of his college.

Miss Emaline Nahn, who has been spending a few weeks in the city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Nahn, returned to Belmont College at Nashville last Wednesday.—Bowling Green Messenger.

Mr. J. W. Hovious has returned from Baton Rouge, La., to spend several weeks with his family.

Baden-Powell's Girl Scouts.

London, Jan. 10.—Gen. Baden-Powell, whose "boy scouts" now number no fewer than 300,000 throughout Great Britain, has founded a girl's branch of the corps, which he thinks will develop into a useful training body for the existing voluntary aid organization, formed to provide nurses in case of war.

The general has issued a girl's guide, laying down the course of training for the feminine scouts. Their duties will include tracking (to find the wounded); signalling (to send messages for bringing the ambulance to the spot); first aid to bandage wounds temporarily; transportation of wounded; cooking, nursing and convalescent nursing.

The girl scouts will wear a smart uniform, based on the ordinary play dress of young English girls—blue skirts, Jersey and Tam O' Shanter, with the addition of a cape hung on the back, gauntlet gloves and a belt, holding simple surgical appliances.

NAVY'S SECRETARY PRAISES

Risked Lives to Save Shipmates—May Get Medals.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The secretary of the navy has personally commended W. Hartenstein, F. Winsor, R. F. Koegel, W. Ritzheim and F. Armstrong, of the battleship Nebraska, for their gallantry in risking their own lives recently to save that of a shipmate.

The commander of the Nebraska has recommended that Hartenstein be awarded a silver life-saving medal for his courageous action on this occasion.

CLEW TO PETROSINO MURDER.

New York Police Have Hopes of Catching Him Soon.

New York, Jan. 10.—A clew to the identity of the man who murdered Lieut. Jos. Petrosino in Palermo, Sicily, last year, is in the hands of the central office here, and a police officer of high rank said the department had hopes of making an arrest soon. The man wanted is said to be working in the mines at Carbondale, Pa. Formerly he lived at Mt. Kisco, Westchester county, N. Y., and from there followed Petrosino to Sicily.

The police are hampered by the fact that they are unable to get any of the Italian colony at Mt. Kisco who know the man they want to accompany them to Carbondale to swear to an identification.

HOKE SMITH SEES MORSE.

Visit Creates Rumor of Habeas Corpus for Ice King.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 10.—Following a lengthy conference between ex-Gov. Hoke Smith, of this state, and Charles W. Morse, the former "Ice King," serving a fifteen-year sentence in the federal prison here for violation of the national banking laws, a report gained considerable currency that Martin W. Littleton, Morse's counsel, would arrive here from New York early next week and that habeas corpus proceedings would be at once instituted in an effort to secure Morse's release. Ex-Gov. Smith refused to discuss the report, but it is said that his visit to the prison was at the request of Mr. Littleton.

BINGOR HERRMANN NOW ON TRIAL FOR FRAUDS

Portland, Ore., Jan. 10.—Accused of conspiracy to defraud the government the connection with the Oregon land fraud, Bingor Herrmann, former congressman, was placed on trial in the U. S. district court today. Herrmann was indicted jointly with the late Senator Mitchell, H. A. Mitchell, deceased, ex-State Senator Mays, Representative Jones and George Sorenson. The latter two were convicted in 1906, Herrmann's trial being postponed, and the other two defendants dying. Herrmann is alleged to have conspired to have 200,000 acres of land in Oregon set aside from the forest reserve. Mays, Jones and Sorenson were shown in their trials to have sought to secure 40,000 acres of school land within this tract, which they planned to exchange for titles of lands in other parts of the state.

SATOLLI'S LAST THOUGHT OF U. S.

CARDINAL ASKS REMEMBRANCE TO TAFT.

Pope Recalls Argument of Satolli Which Caused Him to Accept Chair.

HE WAS LOVED IN AMERICA.

Rome, Jan. 10.—Francesco di Paola Satolli, bishop of Francati, arch-priest of the Lateran Arch-Basilica and perfect of the congregation of studies, died. Death followed an illness that began last June with an attack of nephritis and atrophy of the right lung, and was complicated recently with blood poisoning.

Cardinal Satolli was of Italian birth and was born at Marsciano July 21, 1839. His family was a noble one and of ancient lineage. He was created a cardinal in 1895.

Hope of the ultimate recovery of the cardinal was abandoned several days ago and the end had been expected hourly. Soon after death the body was placed in state in the chapel of the Lateran palace.

The pope was greatly grieved when the announcement of the cardinal's death was made to him, and recalled that it was the convincing argument of Satolli which influenced him to accept the papacy at the last conclave.

Interested in America.

Almost to the hour of his death the cardinal discussed with the few who were permitted to see him the affairs of the church in the United States in which country he had a profound interest, following his visits, which included his mission as first apostolic delegate from the vatican in the United States in the fall of 1892.

He remembered well the details of his stay there, and recently related how, before his appointment as apostolic delegate, he had been instructed by Pope Leo to interrogate the American bishops concerning the advisability of creating an apostolic delegation at Washington. All opposed such a move with the exception of Archbishop Ireland.

To a friend from America the dying man said: "Remember me to President Taft and tell him that I hope the day will come when the United States and Italy will be allied, Italy then being a republic."

Leaves Money to Charity. The ecclesiastic's will is dated June 25 last and leaves all of his estate to a relative. This will protect the purpose of the will in accordance with the laws of Italy, but private instructions were left for the heir requesting that the property be divided among several ecclesiastical and benevolent institutions. The cardinal's wish was that as all he possessed had come from the church, it should return to the church with his demise.

Satolli Loved in America. Washington, Jan. 10.—Second only to Pope Pius X himself, among the high officials of the Catholic church in Rome, was Cardinal Satolli loved by his fellow churchmen in the United States. A title not conferred upon him by the church, but one which is said to have pleased him very much, was that of the "American cardinal," bestowed upon him because of his intense interest and love for the United States. Better than any other member of the sacred college, he understood the spirit of this country and valued to its fullest extent the importance and influence which the United States would exercise in the political-religious development of the world.

Cardinal Satolli was best known in the United States as the first apostolic delegate from the vatican to this country, having come here on that mission in October, 1892. His first visit to America, however, was in 1889, when he was deputed by Leo XIII. to represent him at Baltimore on the occasion of the celebration there of the centenary of the Catholic hierarchy in the United States.

FOR CONSTIPATION.

A Medicine That Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Gives Satisfactory Relief.

If you suffer from constipation in any form, whatever, acute or chronic, we will guarantee to supply you medicine that we honestly believe will effect permanent relief if taken with regularity and according to directions for a reasonable length of time. Should the medicine fail to benefit you to your entire satisfaction we promise that it shall cost you nothing.

No other remedy can be compared with Rexall Orderlies for the easy, pleasant and successful treatment of constipation. The active medicinal ingredient of this remedy, which is odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other valuable ingredients, it forms a preparation which is incomparable as a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, and are notable for their gentle and agreeable action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience, and may be taken at any time, day or night.

We particularly recommend Rexall Orderlies for children and for delicate or aged persons, because they do not contain anything injurious. Unlike other preparations, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the habits acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and remove the causes of constipation or irregular bowel action that are not of surgical variety.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. We know of nothing that will do you so much good. They are prepared in tablet form in two sizes: 36 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Blind, But Scholarly.

Miss Theodora J. Franken, of Chicago, totally blind since she was 8 years old, a student at the University of Chicago, was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa society, an honor conferred by the university for high scholarship. The announcement was made at the recent convocation at the same time that the title of associate in literature was awarded to Miss Franken. Since entering the university three years ago Miss Franken has won a scholarship each year. So far as is known, she is the first blind girl to receive the distinction of election to Phi Beta Kappa.

HENRY CLEWS IN MAIN IS PLEASED

SPEAKS OF EFFECTS OF PRESIDENT TAFT'S MESSAGE.

Liquidation More Noticeable Feature Last Week Than Usual on 'Change.

GOLD EXPORTS TO THE FRONT.

New York, Jan. 10. (Special.)—The first week of the year witnessed considerable liquidation in the stock market. This must be attributed to dearer money, to undue apprehensions regarding President Taft's coming message, to the taking of profits by insiders on stocks which have had phenomenal advances, to unsettled markets abroad and to the anticipation of important new security issues; not to mention the unsettling effect of the Rock Island episode.

The stringency in call money is only temporary, and incidental to usual January operations. It will be remembered that January a year ago was a period of declining prices, although the general situation was distinctly promising. The reduction in the Bank of England rate was a favorable factor and indicates a better condition in the foreign market than expected considering the unusual excitement and disturbances attending the British election. This market has already received considerable assistance by means of borrowing abroad, and the easier conditions there will tend to alleviate temporary strain over here. The feeling abroad, however, has been somewhat distrustful of American securities by the Rock Island affair, which created a worse impression there than here, although in this market the effect has not yet disappeared. At this writing President Taft's ideas for railroad regulation have not yet been authoritatively announced. He is understood to favor a more effective control over railroad rates, to oppose the purchase of railroad stocks by competing lines, to favor pooling, and to advise the regulation of new security issues in order to prevent over issue; also a number of minor proposals of more or less merit, including a commerce court and a federal incorporation law. In the main, the objects of President Taft are meritorious, and would do no injury to properly conducted railroad and industrial enterprises. The most serious objection to his proposals is the tendency towards excessive concentration of power in the federal government, since unquestionably many of the objects for which he aims would be better accomplished by means of well devised and uniform state laws than by adding to an already cumbersome national government machinery.

Liquidations.

Liquidation was more noticeable than at any time in several weeks, especially in steel, and some other fancy issues which have lately occupied attention. The decline was further assisted by the fact that many stocks are now so high that investors are prone to exchange them for securities bearing better rates of interest. The firmer rates for money also exercised a depressing effect; and, as it is generally conceded that 1910 will be a period of higher rates than in 1909, it follows that security values must readjust themselves to the higher rates of interest. Investors have not shown any over-eager appetite for the new issues, which are consequently not being pressed for sale, and are in some cases held back for more favorable conditions. A good many banking houses have been sellers of high priced stocks in order to finance these new issues, and this has been an additional element of weakness in the stock market.

Foreign Exchange.

The manipulation of foreign exchange again raises the question of gold exports. Commercial bills are scarce, and it remains to be seen whether the break in cotton will add to the supply. Unfortunately our trade balance is still unsatisfactory, and our borrowings abroad have been increasing. Should Europe take our securities with more freedom, that would tend to compensate for an unsatisfactory trade balance; but in the absence of a good demand for our stocks and bonds we have to continue sending further amounts of the precious metal to Europe. General business though active shows the temporary lull usual at this season. There is a general belief that the coming year will witness a large volume of business; but conditions are perplexing, costs of doing business are steadily increasing, labor agitations are unsettling and the outlook while upon the whole encouraging is not free from snafus. Our speculative leaders are not very active. They seem to recognize that Wall street has very liberally discounted all the "prosperity" in sight. They are somewhat uneasy regarding President Taft's enforcement of the Roosevelt policies, and seem disposed to await until the attitude of congress is more clearly understood. The probability is that the national legislature will talk much and do little, but the talk may be unsettling, and until this is over confidence will not be fully restored. As for President Taft, he is not likely to recommend any radical or disturbing legislation unless he departs from his well known beliefs, which is improbable.

The Revival of Mysticism.

The trend toward mysticism in our time is marked. It appears in the field of the intellect; in religion; and in art. Prof. Harold Höffding, of Copenhagen, declared at a recent congress of psychologists that since all the most important religions are beyond the reach of man's reasoning powers, the search of ultimate reality leads inevitably to mysticism. Henri Bergson, the French-Jewish philosopher, whose speculations have deeply influenced the whole thought atmosphere of the day, shows decided mystical leanings. "Symbolism" is the keynote of modern drama, the watchword of Ibsen, Hauptmann and Maeterlinck; and symbolism, we are often told, is only another name for mysticism.

In America the mystical tendency is everywhere in evidence. Christian Science is its most pronounced expression, but the New Thought cults, the various Spiritualistic bodies, the Theosophical and Vedanta societies, all bear witness to its growing vogue. Yet in spite of its persuasiveness, very few can define mysticism. The vaguest ideas as to its real meaning prevail. There is a mystical tradition however, extending for many centuries through Clement of Alexandria, St. Basil, St. Bernard of Clairvaux, Bonaventura, Francis of Assisi, Thomas a Kempis, St. Catherine, St. Theresa, Fenelon, Mme. Guyon, Henry Moore, George Fox and many more; and the mystical attitude is now fairly clearly formulated. Practically all authoritative writers on the subject emphasize as one of its essential aspects the conception of the soul as something that can see and perceive the spiritual vertices as unmistakably as the body can grasp material objects.—Current Literature.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing qualling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommendation—F. Gilbert.

"CHRIST'S APPEAL TO MEN" SUBJECT

THE REV. G. B. WYATT PREACHES HIS FIRST SERMON.

New Pastor of the Tenth Street Christian Church Returns to London.

REV. WM. GROTHOR RESIGNS

"Christ's Appeal to Men" was a subject very ably handled at the Tenth Street Christian church yesterday morning by the new pastor, the Rev. G. B. Wyatt. His subject last night was "Profit and Loss." The attendance at both services was large while at the Sunday school the attendance was unusually good.

The Rev. Mr. Wyatt left early this morning for his former home in London, Ky., and will return here Thursday accompanied by his wife and son to reside.

Presbyterian Brotherhood.
"As one whom his mother comforteth," said the Rev. H. W. Burwell at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning, so we are comforted by the Lord. The minister elaborated on the text from the writings of the great poet and prophet of Israel. He said to limit the application locally would be to deprive the words of half their meaning beauty and value. With telling effect the speaker pictured the love of a mother in all its phases, as comforter, guide and protector, and then enlarged the view to comprehend the love of God for His children.

After the morning service steps were taken to organize a brotherhood among the men of the congregation.

Mr. Grothor Will Stay.
English services were held at the German Lutheran church yesterday and the attendance was very large. At the business meeting yesterday afternoon the Rev. William Grothor presented his resignation and it was not accepted. The Rev. William Grothor was called to the pastorate of St. Mark's English Lutheran church at Sheboygan, Wis., and presented his resignation yesterday afternoon, but he has proved such an earnest and faithful worker that the congregation refused to accept his resignation and he decided to stay, so the call will be returned.

Holy Name Society.
The regular services were held at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church yesterday. The Junior branch of the Holy Name society met at 4 o'clock and elected officers for the ensuing year. The following are the officers elected: President, Joseph Bequette; secretary, George Hazelbauer; treasurer, Henry Budde. There are four counselors, who will be elected at the meeting next Friday.

The usual good services were held at the German Evangelical church yesterday.

Two large congregations were present at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday, and a large number attended communion. The Ladies' Aid society of this church met this afternoon at the home of the pastor. The Men's Brotherhood will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the church.

All the services at the Grace Episcopal church were well attended yesterday and the vestry will meet tonight at 7:30 in the parish house. The annual parish supper will be held at the parish house Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock.

There were two additions to the North Twelfth Street Baptist church yesterday and two splendid services were held and the Sunday school attendance was very large.

Two large congregations were present at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday. The Bible class now has 87 members and 67 answered.

to roll call yesterday. The Sunday school was also well attended. One member was received in the morning.

The services at the Fountain Avenue Methodist church were well attended and special music was heard at both services. The Sunday school attendance was very large.

First Baptist.
Two good services were held yesterday at the First Baptist church, the pastor, the Rev. M. E. Dodd, filling the pulpit. In the morning he preached on "Walking With God," while in the evening his theme was "Will You Be Saved?" Both services were attended by large congregations. The Bible institute will begin at the church January 23.

Important Notice.
The members of the chorus of the First Christian church are urgently requested to be at the church promptly at 7 p. m. A cordial invitation is given to the singers of other churches and to singers not identified with any church, to join this chorus. A Sunbeam chorus has been organized to sing Tuesday and Friday nights.

RAILROAD NOTES

Prostitutes are keeping the physicians of the Illinois Central hospital staff busy. A number of the railroad employees are suffering with frostbitten ears and feet, and have been treated at the hospital.

Finis Fields, foreman of the wrecking crew, who was injured at a wreck, is resting easier today. Yesterday he became worse and it was necessary for him to return to the hospital. His condition is not regarded as serious, however.

Master Mechanic J. H. Nash went to Fulton today to attend a staff meeting of the Tennessee division officials.

Conductor J. D. Farrington, who has been in the freight service, has been transferred to the passenger service out of Louisville. Mr. and Mrs. Farrington left for Louisville this morning.

Artie Mills, a popular machinist, has returned to work after recovering from a carbuncle on his arm.

Peter Conrad, of Pittsburgh, was in the city yesterday as the guest of Master Mechanic J. H. Nash. Both are old acquaintances, having worked together in Chicago. Mr. Conrad left last night for St. Louis.

Mr. J. W. Qualls, of the Memphis offices, was in the city yesterday visiting Mr. Marshall Jones.

NOTICE.
Patrons of the Water Company are reminded that their rents expired December 31st, and those who desire to renew them for this quarter should do so before it is forgotten, as all premises not paid for before January 10th will be shut off.

MANIPULATORS OF FOOD FACE JAIL

IF PRESENT LAWS INEFFECTUAL MORE WILL BE PASSED.

Complaints Come From Assemblymen, Producers and Consumers Alike.

OHIO PROSECUTOR GETS BUSY.

Toledo, O., Jan. 10.—A. J. McJannet, General Denman is to direct his attention to the soaring prices of food. Combinations, partnerships and individuals responsible in any way for the manipulation of prices on the necessities of life are to be punished and trade associations are to be broken if there is any law whereby they can be reached. If present laws are ineffectual the general assembly will be asked to insert more teeth, as complaints are coming from the assemblymen, producers and consumers alike.

Members representing the rural districts are demanding that the attorney general proceed against organizations of dairymen, meat dealers and the produce exchange or associations of commission men in the larger cities. Some of the members have volunteered to furnish evidence covering the illegal fixing of prices in such markets as Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus and Toledo.

Complaint is further made that the county prosecutors either are unequal to the task, are incompetent or are wilfully permitting trade organizations to press on the consumer to an extent that is becoming alarming.

There is a disposition to throw a few people in jail if such a course will serve to break up combinations dealing in food.

ISAAC ENGLAND MUST GET OUT OF THIS CITY

Deserting his wife and children, Isaac England, colored, came here from Mayfield a week ago with his wife's sisters, aged 15 and 16, the Gold Dust twins. He was arrested at 3 o'clock this morning by Patrolmen England and Schroeder on a charge of disorderly conduct. In police court today Judge Cross entered a judgment of $100 and 90 days in the city jail, but suspended it on condition that England leave the city by 6 p. m. The judgment will be enforced in case he fails to depart. As to the disposition of the "twins" the court instructed them to try and find work here as both are orphans.
